THE COLONEL WELCOMES FIRST TENANTS

DONOHOE CONSTRUCTION TURNS OVER FIRST PHASE OF OCCUPANCY

Washington, DC, March 19, 2015 — Donohoe Construction turns over the first phase of occupancy at The Colonel after receiving the Certificate of Occupancy from Washington, DC, marking an important project milestone.

Developed by City Interests, CAS Riegler and Douglas Development, the project on 9th Street in Washington, DC features 70 luxury units within a 5-story wood frame apartment building over a 2-story concrete podium. Amenities include garage parking, a courtyard with a fireplace and a rooftop deck with fire pit, kitchen and theater space. Three new restaurants will occupy all 7,700 square feet of retail space inside the new building.

The Colonel was designed by PGN Architects and constructed by Donohoe Construction.
