November 21, 2014 (Bethesda, MD/Washington, DC) - Councilor, Buchanan & Mitchell, PC (CBM), a leading CPA and business advisory firm, is pleased to announce the expansion of their professional services division. The firm's depth of experience goes back to its inception in 1921. Since opening its doors, CBM has served a variety of professional services clients throughout the Washington, DC and Baltimore metropolitan areas.

"As a CPA and business advisory firm, we understand the unique needs and day-to-day challenges that other professional service firms encounter," said Peter B. Reilly, CPA, CVA, President and Managing Partner of CBM. "Our clients vary in size from individuals and small businesses to large corporations and include lawyers, architects, engineers, Think Tanks, lobbyists, and consultants. We are extremely fortunate to have such a strong skill set among our team of over 50 professionals and support staff."

In addition to tax planning and preparation, auditing, and accounting, CBM offers a wide range of services to help professional service providers meet their short-term goals and attain long-term growth and sustainability.

CBM's professional services industry specialties include:

- Strategic planning
- Executive Compensation
- Partnership Agreements & Corporate Structure
- Succession & Exit Planning
- Business Valuation
- Merger & Acquisition Due Diligence
- Budgeting & Forecasting
- Cash Flow Management
- Internal Control Review
- Forensic/Fraud Services
- Federal, State & local Income Tax Return Preparation
