DHG Celebrates Inclusion & Diversity Across its Footprint

Tysons, V.A., February 14, 2017 – In celebration of both Black History Month and Women’s History Month, DHG is launching a two-month campaign to promote and recognize inclusion and diversity across the firm. Throughout February and March, DHG will shine a light on its people, their stories and the unique Life at DHG culture which focuses on people, careers and flexibility.

One of the highlights of the campaign is the release of DHG’s first inclusion and diversity focused publication (view publication). This print and digital magazine is a compilation of stories from the firm’s Life at DHG blog celebrating diversity from many angles. In addition to these personal accounts on topics such as supporting active duty military and veterans, celebrating Native American and Hispanic heritage and fostering a culture of inclusion and giving, the publication includes photos from across the DHG footprint and a listing of “Ten Simple Tips for Fostering an Inclusive Work Environment” (view tips).

“As the face of our country continues to evolve into a beautiful mosaic of different cultures, I am proud that DHG is one of the leaders in creating a workplace culture of inclusion and diversity so we can all thrive and be successful in our careers. DHG’s Women Forward program is one way we celebrate inclusion and diversity through learning and leadership opportunities for both women and men,” says Allison Cohen, CPA, DHG Senior Manager and Women Forward Champion in Metro DC.

DHG’s celebration of inclusion and diversity will span across all of the firm’s digital platforms, with conversation on DHG’s social media channels, the Life at DHG blog, the CEO blog and the Life at DHG podcast series, featuring an exclusive podcast interview with Jina Etienne, President & CEO of The National Association of Black Accountants, Inc. (NABA). (Listen here).
