Cochran & Mann Celebrates 30 Years In Business

Cochran & Mann celebrates a historic milestone for their commercial painting and wallcovering business in honor of their 30th anniversary.

Frederick, MD: Cochran & Mann is celebrating a historic milestone — 30 years of business. Founded on the last day of the year in 1990 in a one-room office, the company has worked hard to become the premiere commercial painting and wallcovering contractor of choice for Washington, D.C., Northern Virginia, and Maryland.

Cochran & Mann now employs hundreds of craftsmen in two locations. Its partners, clients, and projects have all grown in scale. Above all, they have remained family-owned and operated from the beginning. Cochran & Mann is proudly guided by the principles of transparency, reliability, responsiveness, craftsmanship, and loyalty.

“It’s truly an honor to be celebrating our 30th year in business,” said Mike Cochran, CEO of Cochran and Mann. “We couldn’t have done this without the support of our partners and our amazing staff. It is my life’s greatest privilege to lead such a world-class group of professionals.”

As we reflect on Cochran & Mann’s journey over the past 30 years, we remember all the amazing projects, opportunities, and achievements that have been accomplished:

Projects

Cochran & Mann has worked on thousands of projects since their opening, adding their touch and forever changing the landscape of the Washington D.C. and Baltimore metropolitan area. Here are some of their most historic projects:

International Spy Museum

Cochran & Mann partnered with JBG Companies to construct the brand new 140,000 square foot International Spy Museum on top of L'Enfant Plaza in Southwest Washington, D.C. The project consisted of three phases and included two floors of dedicated exhibits, one floor of theaters and specialty exhibits, a massive multi-story veiled stair, sky lounge, and rooftop deck. The results produced a visually stunning building full of color that is creating a lot of talk in downtown.

Cole Field House

This next project goes out to all our University of Maryland students, alumni and fans! Cochran & Mann was honored to be responsible for the transformation of Cole Field House at the University of Maryland, a place where champions were crowned and traditions were born. The University wanted to ensure the first phase of the new facility would be finished in time to show potential recruits for the following athletic year. Cochran & Mann's challenge was to transform an arena that had laid silent for decades to a state-of-the-art football athletic facility. The Cochran & Mann team was responsible for painting the facility and installing graphics to bring a cutting-edge look to the outdated arena.

PBS

One of Cochran & Mann's most recent projects includes the PBS offices in Arlington, VA. This project was done in the midst of COVID-19. Because of the pandemic, there were many obstacles, including employee health and globally-manufactured wallcoverings delivery system delays. Despite the challenges, Cochran & Mann was able to deliver beautiful 5.5 floors of office space (130,000sf) and an interconnecting staircase.

Community

Community involvement has always been one of the highest priorities for Cochran & Mann and their craftsmen. They are always looking for ways to give back whether it's financial, material, or time. Here are some of the organizations that Cochran & Mann has had the pleasure of offering their resources.
